Court Order Blocks Shaw Trial in June

Pederal District Judge Frederick J. R. Heche has issued a temporary restraining order, blocking the scheduled June trial of Clay L. Shaw, secused of conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy.

Shaw had been scheduled to go to trial June II before Criminal Court Judge Edward A. Haggerty Jr. on the plot charge which grew out of District Attorney Jim Garrison's sessionation who

THE ORDER, issued yesterday, restrains Garrison and his staff from prosecuting S haw pending further orders from the court.

The order was sought in a suit filed Monday by Shaw's attorneys. The suit also asked that preliminary and permanent injunctions against Garrison and his staff be issued.

The suit also asked that the findings of the Warren Commission Report on the Kennedy assassinations be delared valid and admissable as evidence to all courts in the country.

JUDGE HEEBE said Shaw's complaint raises "real issues of alleged deprivations of liberty through the actions of the state."

The complaint, read as a whole, Judge Heebe said, "presents much more than a recitation of isolated wrongs, but impugns the entire prosecution against the petitioner and attempts to raise the actions of the defendants, prior to and during the criminal proceedings, to the level of a concerted pattern of persecution of the petitioner and the wholesale and willful disregard of the petitioner's constitutional rights."

Judge Heebe said that because there is a likelihood that Shaw "may prevail on the merits" and because Shaw's complaint attacks the constitutionity of various "pertinent Louisiana statutes, a three-judge court is required in this matter..."

THE JUDGE said it would not be possible for such a court to be convened and a hearing concluded before the scheduled trial date.

Under federal procedure
Judge Heebe will now ask Chiel Judge John R. Brown of the U.S. Fitth Circuit Court of Ap peals to designate two other judges to sit with him to heat the Shaw suit.

The immediate effect of Judge Heebe's order is that the Shaw trial is delayed indefinitely. The three-judge court, after hearing the suit, could rule in Shaw's favor, preventing a tria at all.

ASSISTANT DA James L. Alcock said be is "mystified" about the decision and said.
"This is totally unprecedented in federal and state relations."
He added that his "optimism" about bringing Shaw to triel has "dampeded."

Writing the Warren Report Into Law

A New Orleans man, Clay L. Shaw, has asked a federal court to prohibit the district attorney permanently from prosecuting him on a charge of conspiring to murder President Kennedy.

We express no view at the moment on the merits of his effort or of the prosecution effort. That is before the courts, and should be decided there.

But there is a general public right of concern about one of the issues Shaw has raised. He asks that the federal court in New Orleans make the Warren Commission report on John Kennedy's assassination "valid and binding" on every court in the nation.

In an extraordinary case, it is an extraordinary request. It would be unfortunate if the court attempted to impose such a limitation, and it is unlikely that it could legally do so.

Whatever its merits, the Warren Commission investigation was not conducted strictly under court rules and procedures. Indeed, the commission itself made plain that it had not conducted a trial of Lee Harvey Oswald. The man it accused had no opportunity to present a defense; he was dead. Nor was there cross-examination of witnesses. A lawyer who was finally named as a sort of "defense counsel" for Oswald sat mute much of the time. Interviews with witnesses were conducted in a variety of ways, some of which would not have met the standards of good courtroom procedure. There was no attempt to serve the constitutional requirement of a public trial.

In short, this was not a trial, but an investigation. In many ways, it was thorough, but in others it has rather conclusively been shown by now to have been deficient.

The commission's findings merit respect. They are, on the whole, the best account we have of what probably happened on that black day in Dallas. But they are not of a caliber to be given the force of law, and that was not the intent of the commission itself.

An attempt to bind the entire legal system of the nation to the thinking of the Warren Commission is out of order. If that were to have been done, the commission itself would have had to operate much differently, from the beginning.
